IMPORTANT

Under the law in Scotland driver-guides must have an appropriate licence and insurance to cover driver-guiding. HOSTGA driver-guide members have sole responsibility for ensuring that they obtain and retain in force all appropriate forms of licence and insurance to cover their activities, whether they own their own vehicle for this purpose, or rent one. The driver-guides alone must ensure that they comply with their statutory obligations; HOSTGA is not responsible for doing so and will not be liable for any loss arising from any such failure on the part of its members.
